PNY solutions give everyone from military strategists and tacticians to intelligence analysts, or agency researchers the features and performance required to convert large amounts of data into actional information or plans – all while reducing costs and the time required to complete the mission or task. Today, aerospace, defense, intelligence, and scientific agencies are taking advantage of PNY products for better, more data-informed decision making.

NVIDIA RTX FEATURES FOR GOVERNMENT

NVIDIA RTX™ offers significant advantages to anyone who is working with radar (modeling or validating designs and enhancing sensitivity and/or accuracy), stealth technology (minimization of a radar cross section), and mission simulators where photorealistic imagery is required, even when various atmospheric (or oceanic) conditions and optical parameters are considered.
