

Send, Sign and Notarize with DocuSign Notary

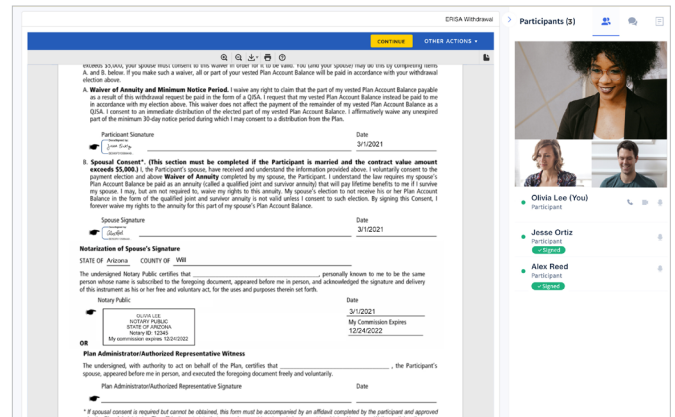

While notarization is an important process that helps assure the authenticity and integrity of critical documents, the majority of notarizations today are conducted in-person and are paper-based—this slows the pace of doing business, delivers a poor signer experience, has a greater risk of identity fraud and ultimately increases costs for the organization.

DocuSign Notary

Notary is the trusted way to remotely and electronically notarize agreements.

- Empower your notaries public with the digital tools they need to more securely conduct remote online notarization (RON) transactions.
- Provide a convenient experience for your signers, as they can now remotely sign and notarize agreements without being in the physical presence of a notary public.
- Help reduce the risk of identity fraud and have greater confidence your signers and notaries public are who they say they are with secure identity proofing technologies.
- Mitigate risk with a robust audit trail with a tamper-evident Certificate of Completion, audio-visual recording and electronic journal.

All of this is built on the #1 e-signature solution, DocuSign eSignature, making it easy for you to now send, sign and notarize agreements with DocuSign.

Notary connects signers and your notary public in a secure audio-visual session to remotely sign and notarize agreements.

Encrypted audio-visual session

Conduct remote notarizations via the secure two-way, audio-visual technology. Offer your signers the convenience of signing and having their agreements notarized without having to be physically present.

Multi-device support for multiple signers in a single session

Add up to four signers in a single remote notarial session, with the ability for each signer to sign from their own device. This eliminates the need for signers to physically co-locate, saving time and reducing hassle.

Mitigate risk and reduce fraud

Conduct encrypted notarial sessions with a detailed audit trail. Reduce the risk of identity fraud by using secure identity proofing technologies. DocuSign Notary's platform security for notarized documents meets, and often exceeds, state regulations on digital certificates and notarization security.

Identity proofing technologies

Authenticate your signers' identities with identity verification and knowledge-based authentication before they can access the agreement, reducing the risk of identity fraud. In some states, notaries public also have the option to personally attest to the signer's identity, per such state RON legislations.

Robust audit trail

Access a detailed audit trail for each notarial session with a tamper-evident Certificate of Completion, while your notaries public can access the encrypted audio-visual recording and electronic journal directly within DocuSign.

Digital certificates

Maximize trust and identity assurance of notaries public with digital certificates to attach to each notarial transaction and render the document "tamper-evident." By using DocuSign-issued digital certificates, you can get your notaries public doing remote online notarizations faster, with less hassle and less cost.
